24 March 2020

To our valued Alumni members, future and present;

With our training season kicking off into full gear and the current happenings around the globe regarding the COVID-19 virus, we wanted to reach out to all of you to let you know how MDFI will be operating for the year.

We have started to receive emails from students asking if certain classes are still going to happen and we wanted to get our official statement out to all who were planning on joining us for the 2020 season.

In short, we are “rolling with the punches” and modifying our schedule based on the most current information coming in, existing executive orders from the state and federal government, and most importantly for your safety.

MDFI will keep all registered students up-to-date via email about any changes, postponements, or cancellations to their upcoming classes and those issues will be handled in accordance with our existing class/payment policies. (You can find those HERE)

What we would ask now is exactly what we would ask of any student at any time when joining us should classes be happening as scheduled: If you or a member of your household does not feel well, please do not come to class.

Simply put, if you wake up in the morning before a class and believe that you are not well enough to attend but are worried about losing your tuition, take care of yourself and family first by seeing a medical professional and then email us when possible and we will do everything within reason to make sure you are taken care of in the future regarding training. We will always work to take care of members of the MDFI Alumni family (even if you are not a member yet.)

During what is and will be a very interesting time for us as a nation, we appreciate your understanding as we enter uncharted territory as a small business. We will be in touch and we look forward to seeing you soon.

v/r Trek, Allison, and the MDFI Cadre
